

DEFI BEST PRACTICES

Simple Rules That Protect Serious Capital

Disclaimer

This playbook is designed to educate and empower you — not to provide financial advice.

Nothing in this material constitutes financial, investment, legal, or tax advice. The examples shared are for illustration and learning, not recommendations to buy, sell, lend, or invest in any specific asset or protocol.

Crypto assets and DeFi activities involve significant risk, including the potential loss of capital. You are solely responsible for your decisions and any actions you take.

Always conduct your own research and, where appropriate, consult a qualified professional before making financial decisions.

DEFI BEST PRACTICES

Simple Rules That Protect Serious Capital

1

No Digital Copies

Never copy your passphrase or private key onto your clipboard or paste them anywhere digitally.

2

No Public WiFi

Avoid connecting to public WiFi's on the device you use your crypto. Even if you do, do not open your wallet or enter your password or sign any transaction while on a public WiFi.

3

Diversify

Yes crypto makes good money if you do it right but as with every investment, do not put all your eggs in one basket. Diversify - real estate, metals, stocks etc. Personally crypto is a minimum 5% and a maximum 50-60% of my portfolio.

Extreme Measures

For those dealing in millions or those ultra paranoid.

- Keep a separate device for crypto, fully formatted so any old viruses etc are out of your device.
- Keep the device at home, like a desktop which by default has no access to public WiFis.
- If you do use your device outside, in public places like cafes, do not open up your portfolio and ensure cameras around you don't capture your portfolio - you want to lay low and not expose yourself as a target.

Get a ledger

These may seem extreme to some but if you're the paranoid kind or if you're dealing in many millions and this allows you to sleep peacefully at night, ignore the self criticism and do it. It is well worth the peace of mind you get from it.
